

Please colour your poppy and cut it then cut it out, and bring it along on the day or post it in advance to 19 Fernhurst Road, Calcot, Reading RG31 7EA

Did you know that there are several colours you can use...

Red is the traditional colour and used by the Royal British Legion to remember those that fell.

Black is for the African and Black ancestors who contributed during the wars (www.noglory.com)

Purple is promoted by Animal Aid for all the animals that have died in Battle. (www.animalaid.com)

White for Peace and is used by the No War Movement.
